

ABOUT

I have a passion about design, and that led me to explore this wide, marvellous range of possibilities.

From the early days of my journey, I have tried various applications of it such as logo creation, motion and graphic design, illustration, and finally found myself completely fulfilled with user-interface and user-experience design.

Since that day, I have spent all my time trying to get better and master web ergonomics.

Passionate about technology and languages, I aim at improve myself constantly by staying curious about everything.
